'Jury of Friends' Looms At Whitney Ouster Trial

SELECTION OF JURORS IS STARTED

Support At Polls For Recorder Indicated By Many Today

A jury of friends appeared to be a possibility today for County Recorder Justine Whitney. Miss Whitney went on trial this morning in superior court before Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel, on a grand jury accusation charging her with willful and corrupt misconduct in office. As the proceeding got under way after the noon recess, more than half of the jurors in the box indicated that they had voted for Miss Whitney at the last election.

Not Newspaper Fans
They also made replied showing they are not ardent newspaper fans. They said they had read nothing about Miss Whitney's case in the newspapers except the headlines. William O. Day of Huntington Beach said he didn't even do that much, and that he does not subscribe to a Santa Ana newspaper.

"That's fine," commented O. A. Jacobs, Miss Whitney's attorney.

Examination of the prospective jury by Mr. Jacobs began at 10 a. m. and was continuing this afternoon. He asked each person in the jury box if he or she was opposed to Miss Whitney at the last election. By early this afternoon more than half of them had said they were not.

Case Is Civil Matter
Assistant District Attorney James D. Davis so far has given no indication of the line of questioning he will follow or whether he will challenge jurors who voted for Miss Whitney. Mr. Davis is (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

10 INJURED AS 'L' DERAILED

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Ten persons were injured seriously and more than two score others were hurt when two cars of a three-car Chicago elevated express jumped the rails on a curve near the Chicago stockyards early today.

None of the cars overturned but the two derailed and tumbled off the elevated structure with the front ends overhanging the edge and tilted at an angle of almost 45 degrees over the street 35 feet below.

GREEK LIBERALS WIN

FORMER KAISER 77 TODAY

King's Death Delays Rites

DOORN, The Netherlands, Jan. 27. (AP)—White-haired Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, became 77 years old today, still proudly erect and enjoying firm health.

Formal observance of his birthday anniversary was postponed until Friday in respect to the memory of his cousin, King George of England, who will be buried tomorrow at Windsor.

Passenger Ship, Tanker Collide On Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27. (AP)—The S. S. Amapala, luxurious tropical passenger vessel of the Standard Fruit and Steamship Company, and the oil tanker Camden, collided in the Mississippi river today at Bolivar Point, about 60 miles below New Orleans.

After the crash the Amapala was beached on the bank of the river with a gaping hole in her keel while arrangements were made to transfer her passengers to New Orleans. The steamship agents announced no one was injured in the crash.

4TH LAMSON TRIAL IS ON

Jury Venire Of 250 Is Reduced To 102 As Case Is Started

SAN JOSE, Jan. 27. (AP)—The jury venire of 250 names was reduced quickly to 102 as the fourth trial of David A. Lamson, accused of slaying his wife, opened before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco here today.

Lamson appeared in a gay mood and said he hoped for a rapid trial. He declared he was confident of acquittal.

No Venue Change
Many prospective jurors were excused when they stated they had heard of the case. Two of those called were in Europe, two had died and others offered various excuses.

Leo Friedman, Lamson's attorney, announced he had dropped his attempts for a change of venue to a federal court.

Actual selection of jurors was to get under way later today, with prospects of another venire being called.

His Other Trials
Lamson, who spent 13 months in San Quentin's condemned row after his conviction and death sentence in the first trial, won a jury disagreement in the second hearing last spring. His third trial last fall was declared a mistrial.

The state sought to prove he bludgeoned his wife to death in the bathroom of their home, allegedly because of domestic strife. An iron pipe with which the prosecution claimed the slaying was committed was introduced in evidence over strong defense objections.

From the first, Lamson insisted his wife slipped and struck her head while bathing.

BODY FOUND IN HOTEL TRUNK

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 27. (AP)—The ghastly discovery in a hotel room trunk of a decomposing woman's body, clad only in undergarments and a kimono, set Pacific Northwest officers on a hunt today for a mysterious Japanese friend of the woman.

The victim of what Coroner I. S. Collins said was "unmistakably a death by violence" was identified by an aunt, Mrs. Kate Murphy, as Mrs. Dolores Naccarato, 24, waitress.

RESERVE BOARD IS NOMINATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—President Roosevelt today named six of the seven members of the new federal reserve board to take office Feb. 1. It will be headed by Marriner S. Eccles of Utah, the present governor.

The other nominations to the board sent to the senate today: Joseph A. Broderick, New York City, for a term of 14 years; M. S. Szymczak, Chicago, a present member of the board, term of 12 years; Ronald Fanson, Georgia, term of six years; John K. McKee, Ohio, chief of the examining division of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, term of 10 years; and Ralph W. Morrison, San Antonio, Texas, term of two years.

The increasing seclusion of the former Kaiser and the gradual limitation of his contacts with the villagers have made him a shadowy figure, seen only occasionally as a fast automobile glides through the streets.

Nothing has interested the former Kaiser more during the last year, informed sources said, than the decision of the nation he ruled before the World war to arm once more.

KING GEORGE MOURNERS PROTEST

Early Closing Of Hall Draws Fire; 600,000 See Dead Monarch

LONDON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Great Britain's national pilgrimage past the bier of King George V rose to a rate of 10,000 persons an hour despite rain, at the last day of the lying-in-state in Westminster Hall today after early morning scenes in which mourners protested an early closing of the chamber doors.

One delegation of mourners marched to No. 10 Downing street to object because the entrance was closed more than two hours earlier than had been announced before being reopened to admit the ever-swelling crowds from all quarters.

600,000 See King
The protesting marchers, led by a woman, were not allowed to rouse Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, but Scotland Yard explained later that the hall was closed to allow "cleaners to perform their duties."

Authorities estimated at noon today that more than 600,000 persons had filed through Westminster Hall since King George's lying-in-state began last Friday.

Larger Crowds
Police said the crowds were much larger than those for the lying-in-state of Edward VII. George's father, who died in 1910, was buried in the same vault in the Palace after spending the weekend at his Fort Belvedere country estate.

King Carol of Rumania, one of the five visiting Kings for the funeral tomorrow of the late English sovereign, arrived at Dover aboard a British destroyer and came to London by special train.

Lebrun Arrives
The Duke of York met President Albert Lebrun of France, who, like heads of other continental delegations, was escorted part way across the English channel by destroyers.

King Christian of Denmark and Crown Prince Gustav of Sweden, with the crown princes, arrived and were met at the station by the Dukes of Kent and Gloucester.

Leopold, King of the Belgians, also met by Gloucester when he arrived at Victoria station at 5 p. m. The young Belgian monarch was accompanied to London by the Count of Flanders, Leopold's brother, and by the Princes Felix and John of Luxembourg.

NO CONTEST OF GILBERT WILL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27. (AP)—John Gilbert's will, disposing of an estate officially estimated at $363,494, was admitted to probate today. Reports that the will might be contested failed to materialize. The hearing on the document disposing a substantial portion of the estate to Virginia Bruce, fourth wife of the actor, was routine.

COLD BREAKS RECORDS

No Relief In Sight For Three Days For East And Middle West

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Ice-locked from the Rockies to the Atlantic by a week of zero weather, a frozen nation today gave up all hope of relief for at least three more days.

The weather man could see "no drastic change until Wednesday or Thursday" in weather maps that showed:

Temperatures below zero in a vast semi-circle from Western Montana to Nashville, Tenn., and Buffalo, N. Y.

Niagara Falls frozen over for the third consecutive day for the first time in man's memory.

All Records Broken
Thermometers registering 23 below zero at Devil's Lake, N. D.

All 20th century records for continued cold shattered in the Midwest.

Snow and sleet in Central Texas, and freezing weather over all the southland but Florida.

'Comfortable'
Aside from the region west of the Rocky Mountains—where thermometers were normal—New England states were most comfortable. Even they were well below freezing, with a 10 degree drop due before tomorrow.

Ten more deaths were added to the cold's list of victims, boosting the total to 235 since Wednesday.

Damage Mounts
Property damage continued to roll up. Illinois peach growers estimated their losses at $1,000,000 or more, and Indiana orchardists saw most of their crop ruined. Traffic on the Ohio river was paralyzed by the worst freeze since 1918.

Frigid winds whipping down the northern slope of Mt. Ranier in Washington's National park turned back veteran climbers who tried to rescue Delmar Fadden, 23-year-old climber, lost in the cliffs.

SHIP 'LOCKOUT' IS DEFERRED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Opposing factions in the highly-charged Pacific coast maritime situation drew battle lines today pending word from Washington of a congressional inquiry.

The asserted "lockout" of marine unions that labor leaders had predicted would start today, failed to materialize. Shipowners' spokesmen had nothing to say concerning subsequent statements by Harry Bridges, fiery left-wing laborite, that employers had deferred the "lockout" temporarily.

Stone Pleads Guilty to Murdering Fresno Girl

2000 CROWD COURT FOR HEARING

Officers Shove Slayer Through Mob Without Any Trouble

FRESNO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Elton Stone pleaded guilty today to a charge of murdering 14-year-old Mary Louise Stammer. The mechanic, who was rushed by armed officers through crowds jamming the courtyard and courthouse, waived his legal right for a continuance to another date for further proceedings.

Sentence Soon
The waiver meant the prisoner undoubtedly would be sentenced soon by Superior Judge R. T. Thomson and returned to Folsom prison, late this afternoon.

Speaking in tones hardly audible, Stone spoke only the word "guilty" when Judge Thomson asked for his plea. He stared dejectedly at the floor.

Four other words were uttered by the prisoner as he admitted he had been convicted twice before on grand theft charges. In answer to another question he said he wanted to be sentenced immediately, waiving his rights for a continuance.

Tear Gas Handy
Officers, who two hours previous had pushed Stone through the crowds in the yard and courthouse, took him to the county jail, adjoining. In their hands as they forced their way to the courtroom were tear gas grenades. There was no concerted evidence that citizens intended to try to take Stone from the officers.

Several shook their fists and a young man, dressed in a leather jacket and nondescript trousers, shouted "let's take Stone." He started moving forward in the crowd but three highway patrolmen stepped up and he subsided without further demonstration.

NEUTRALITY ACT IS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The house foreign affairs committee today approved the administration's permanent neutrality bill.

The bill, approved by an 11 to 1 committee vote, would impose mandatory embargoes on arms, munitions and implements of war, give the President discretionary power to embargo shipments of war materials in excess of normal trade, and ban loans and credits beyond those needed for normal trade purposes. It is designed to replace the temporary neutrality act expiring Feb. 29.

F.D.R. Okehs County Dams; But It Doesn't Mean Much

Approval by President Franklin D. Roosevelt was given today to plans calling for the construction, at a cost of approximately $13,000,000, of a series of water conservation and flood control dams in Orange county.

But don't get too excited, because nothing will come of it, and the dams will not be built. Not right away, anyway.

The project receiving the President's approval today is the same one that was rejected by county voters on Dec. 19. The gesture seemed to be a belated afterthought.

How the project got lost in the scramble, or why the presidential okh is coming through at this late date, County Manager Dan Mulherron of the Works Progress administration was at a loss to say.

"Don't know how it happened," he said, "but there it is. It doesn't mean a thing."

The President also gave approval to projects calling for construction of two national guard armories, in Anaheim and Orange, at a cost of $75,000 each.

"We discovered a long time ago that they wouldn't obey anyhow, so we took the word out of the ceremony," said the Rev. C. M. Aker, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South.

"The most important thing," said the Rev. Harry Evan Owens of the First Baptist church, "is to love and cherish your mate. I feel that the term 'obey' rather points to a certain superiority on the part of the man which does not necessarily exist and ought not to exist."

The old Church of England ceremony used the term "obey," it was explained by the Rev. Please Turn to Page 9, Col. 8)

DOUBT BILL'S LEGALITY

Senate Farm Leaders Hear Wallace Plea For New Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Members of the senate agriculture committee were reported still skeptical of the administration's new farm bill today after Secretary Wallace had discussed its constitutionality and practicality at a secret session.

After the meeting Chairman Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, said "Secretary Wallace and Chester Davis, farm administrator, explained why they believed the bill as now written is constitutional and practical."

"There is no evidence as far as I can see of any mature opinion on those points as to this bill," Smith said.

He added that the committee had invited Solicitor General Stanley Reed to appear tomorrow, "as he made the oral argument before the supreme court from which came the adverse decision on the three A's."

The bill under consideration provides for amendment of the soil conservation act to provide a subsidy plan for withdrawing acreage from production, part of the functions carried on by the old AAA.

Lucien Wheeler, private investigator, who purchased a Claremont orange grove from Fitts' sister, Mrs. Bertha Gregory, headed the list.

JEWES WILL LEAVE GERMANY

Others In World Lend Aid

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Leaders of world Jewry have announced plans for a race exodus from Hitlerized Germany.

Sir Herbert Samuel, former British high commissioner to Palestine, said a definite method will be formulated within a few days to provide for the gradual emigration of at least 100,000 of the German Reich's estimated 430,000 Jewish population.

The undertaking, strikingly parallel to the saga of the 40-year trek of Moses and his Biblical band, will be financed by a fund of approximately $15,000,000 raised jointly by the contributions of sympathetic English and American Jews.

As many refugees as possible will seek haven in Palestine. Others, as immigration laws permit, will be taken to America, Canada, England and European countries free from anti-Semitic restrictions.

Sir Herbert said they plan to lend emigrants enough money to reach the new lands and establish themselves, the money eventually to be repaid to the general refugee fund.

ROOSEVELT'S VETO LOSES IN SENATE

Upper House Votes 76 To 19 In Favor Of Baby Bonds Plan

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus was made law by congress today over President Roosevelt's veto.

The senate, with its big Democratic majority, voted 76 to 19 to override the chief executive's veto. The house had smashed it down last week 324 to 61. Only a two-thirds majority is required.

Shortly after President Roosevelt issued orders to the treasury and veterans administration to provide for payment "as expeditiously as accuracy will permit."

On Books Now
The two ballots, which saw top Democratic leaders go against the President on the 16-year-old issue, put the $2,491,000,000 bond payment plan on the statute books.

They raised also for Mr. Roosevelt and his financial advisers the serious problem of finding funds to meet the new drain on the treasury.

Whether new taxes will be asked to meet this extra-budget outlay—estimated to require an immediate expenditure of $1,000,000,000—remained to be seen.

The new law itself merely authorizes an appropriation of $2,237,000,000 and makes available $254,000,000 already in the bonus certificate fund to pay the bonus 1945 maturity value in 50 cashable bonds. An actual appropriation will have to be made later in some regular supply bill.

Objections Sane
President Roosevelt did not mention taxes in his brief veto message, but said his objections were the same now as they were last May when he vetoed the Patman inflationary-payment measure.

Then, he declared failure by congress to "provide additional taxes" to pay the bonus would "in itself and by itself alone warrant disapproval" of the measure.

Loud applause greeted the announcement of the veto by Vice President Garner who before giving it congratulated the senate on its "good health." He noted that for the first time since he became presiding officer the entire membership was recorded on a roll call.

While Democratic leaders in both houses have contended no new taxes would be required, Secretary Morgenthau has cautioned payment of the bonus would increase to perhaps $11,300,000,000 the amount of new treasury financing in the next 17 months, $5,800,000,000 of this being a refunding operation. Also he fore-

TRIAL OF FITTS IS RESUMED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27. (AP)—Key witnesses in the prosecution of District Attorney Buren Fitts on perjury charges were summoned today.

Lucien Wheeler, private investigator, who purchased a Claremont orange grove from Fitts' sister, Mrs. Bertha Gregory, headed the list.

Special Prosecutor Clyde C. Shoemaker planned to ask Wheeler when the money came from and all the details of the sale.

REDS TO SHOOT FIVE FOR PLOT

KHABROVSK, Russia, Jan. 27. (AP)—Soviet Russia's Far Eastern military tribunal condemned to death today five men charged with seeking to pave the way for military intervention from the Japanese-adviced state of Manchukuo.

Sixteen other members of an alleged espionage ring were sentenced to prison terms. Those sentenced to death were ordered to go before a firing squad.

"The young Jew in particular suffers," said the statesman. "He is banned from entering the professions and in most cases has no future to look forward to more pleasant than starvation of the body and degradation of the soul."

"We cannot hope to take all the Jews from Germany. Many of the older generation, most of whom are living on their savings, must die there."

"It is the young German Jews, helpless and hopeless now, whom we would aid."

Sir Herbert said they plan to lend emigrants enough money to reach the new lands and establish themselves, the money eventually to be repaid to the general refugee fund.

ITALIANS CLAIM 10,000 ETHIOPIAN LOSSES; CHIEFS SURRENDER

NATIVE ARMY IS REPORTED ON RUN

Red Cross Officials Barred From Giving War Information

By A. E. STUNTZ

ROME, Jan. 27. (AP)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio reported to his government today that the Ethiopian casualties in the fighting on the southern front have been proved to be 10,000.

The marshal's communique raises the Italian count of recent Ethiopian casualties to 15,000 since last Saturday, he reported that 5000 Ethiopians had been killed or wounded on the northern front.

Fight in North

Today's announcement was concerned with the fighting north of Dolo.

The communique said, in part: "On the Somali front, on Jan. 23, one of our flying columns reconnoitered as far as Wadara, about 70 kilometers northwest of Neghelli in the region between Galla Borana and Sidamo (village in the province of the same name)."

"The enemy, after a brief resistance, retired after blowing up its munitions deposit. Numerous prisoners were taken and deposits of provisions and materials captured."

Occupy Town

"One of the columns, composed of Blackshirt (Fascist) militia, lumberjacks in armored cars, commanded by General Agostini, going up the Dawa Parma river after having repulsed Ethiopian forces commanded by a Greek officer, occupied Malca Murri, 210 kilometers (132 miles) from Dolo yesterday, Jan. 26."

"During the fight this column had with the Ethiopians, the latter lost 1467 dead."

"Weber Addi, the chieftain of the Digodia Somaliland tribe, together with his notables and warriors, submitted to our political authority."

"The Digodia tribesmen already had accepted an Italian protectorate with the convention signed at Lugh Nov. 25, 1935 by Vittorio Bottega."

ETHIOPIAN ARMY ON RUN, IS REPORT

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Ethiopian government was represented today as gravely concerned over the lack of resistance to the Italian attack in the south.

Ras Desta Demtu's army was reported scattered and fleeing from Italian bombardments.

The government ordered all Red Cross officials in contact to cease informing the press as to what was happening in Sidamo province.

Dr. Hanner, the Swedish consul, returned from an airplane flight to Sidamo but said only: "My lips are sealed."

MORE ABOUT WHITNEY

While the case is a civil matter carrying the penalty only of removal from office, Mr. Jacobs' remarks indicated he regards it as a criminal proceeding as far as rules of evidence are concerned.

"I believe in this matter, as in any criminal action, you should keep your mind open and free," he told one juror.

Principal Contention
He bore down heavily on the contention that, as in a criminal case, the district attorney must prove his point, not simply by a preponderance of evidence, but beyond a reasonable doubt and to a moral certainty. The last relating to such proceedings says that they shall be conducted in all respects in the same manner as a trial of an indictment for a misdemeanor.

Mr. Jacobs also appeared anxious to secure a jury whose members will stand by their convictions. He asked one prospective juror if he would change his mind to conform with that of the rest of the jury if they had been arguing for a long time and the juror in question wanted to go fishing or keep a bridge engagement. The reply was negative.

West's Name In Case
James Nicholson, father of Officer Nicholson of the Santa Ana police force, is one of the prospective jurors. He told Mr. Jacobs he would not be prejudiced against Miss Whitney simply because the attorney once dismissed him as a juror in a criminal case.

The relation of Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach also came into the jury examination today. Mr. West wrote a letter to the grand jury in which he called attention to the asserted irregularities in Miss Whitney's office. Mr. Jacobs asked John A. Olson of Doheny Park, in Mr. West's supervisory district, if he had voted for Mr. West at the last election. Mr. Olson said he didn't remember.

Courtroom Crowded
The courtroom was crowded today. Miss Whitney sat inside the rail, dressed in purple.

Today's progress in the case indicated that selection of the jury will not be completed until late today or tomorrow.

The accusation against Miss Whitney contains nine specifications. Each alleges that she was late in making her monthly re-

ON WAY TO A GOLDEN PRISON

(Editorial)

This is the picture of a man on the way to a golden prison. Notice the dazed look in his eyes, the furrow of grief down his cheek, the stiffness of his lips as he tries to stifle his feelings.

He rides in a luxurious limousine, escorted by a staff of royal attendants, and with the power and wealth of mighty England at his call. But he is alone. Terribly alone—except for the bitter thoughts which are writing their message across his face for the world to see.

Perhaps he is thinking something like this:
Here am I Edward VIII, newly proclaimed King of England. My father has died, leaving me the throne, and I must follow the stern, unbending course which he and the rulers of our nation have marked. I am no longer a man. I have become a symbol. An image of the ancient law and order of the land. No more for me the carefree company of pleasant friends, the power to go when and where I will, the free and easy liberty which every man must have if his soul is to survive. I am more a slave to inexorable duty and to fate than my humblest subject. I am the King. Yes. But life for me has become just a golden prison.

POLICIES OF HOME-OWNED MERCHANTS EXPLAINED

The Home-Owned Merchants association is not pursuing a militant policy in opposition to any chain store or other business, but is merely conducting an educational program for the benefit of all business in communities throughout California. Russell Bjorn, director of the managers and wholesalers division of the state association, told members of the Santa Ana association Friday night.

By actual count, 368 were in attendance at the meeting, held in the city council chambers in the city hall. Walter Vandermaast presided, in the absence of President Robert Schilling.

Mr. Bjorn outlined activities at the state convention of home-owned business associations, held recently in Oakland, and gave a detailed explanation of the policy of the organization in his talk.

"The association," he said, "is concerned with the protection of home owned business, because we believe that in that way we protect the best interests of all. We do not advocate boycott, or any other similarly stringent measures. This is an educational campaign."

Guests at the meeting Friday night included J. O. Smith, president of the home-owned business association in Santa Monica, and J. D. Smith, director of the Glendale association.

MORE ABOUT BONUS

Payment Method
The bill enacted today was offered after weeks of secret negotiations between bonus leaders in and out of congress. Senator Harrison (D., Miss.) introduced it on behalf of himself and Senators Byrnes (D., S. C.); Steiwer (R., Ore.), and Clark (D., Mo.).

It provides for payment in bonds that could be cashed after June 15 next at local postoffices, or held for 3 per cent interest for nine years. The bill passed the senate originally 74 to 16 and the house 346 to 39.

Opponent Loses
Senator King (D., Utah), who voted against the bill with eight other Democrats, tried to have the house resolution passing it over the veto referred to the finance committee, but Senator Harrison (D., Miss.), co-author of the legislation, had the motion tabled by a voice vote.

King then forced a reading of President Roosevelt's veto message last May of the Patman currency-expansion bill, in which the executive called for immediate payment now of full 1945 maturity.

Value of the bonus certificates of gratuity of more than a billion dollars and emphasized that no new taxes to raise the money had been provided.

King said he wanted that read because the President's brief hand-penned veto of the baby bond bill referred members to the first veto. This he described as an "invincible and unanswerable argument" against payment of the bonus.

King said he took the second veto to mean that the President wanted all those who voted last year to sustain his action to do likewise now.

ports with the county auditor and that she completed monthly deposits with the treasurer by using funds collected in a following month.

Also Faces Indictment
She also faces a criminal indictment, conviction on which would result in a prison term. The indictment is based on similar charges and accuses her of appropriating county funds to her own use. She is scheduled to answer this charge on Feb. 7.

The prospective jurors under examination today were John Dierberger and Arthur F. Dyckman, Anaheim; James Nicholson, Max M. Boege, E. K. Wyman, F. P. Townsend and Vincenta Hill, Santa Ana; G. C. Roseman and Nina Smith, Fullerton; John A. Olson, Doheny Park; William O. Day, Huntington Beach, and Clara Middleton, Costa Mesa.

MORE ABOUT SLAYER

An hour and a half before, each of the 112 seats in the courtroom had been taken, but still the spectators came. Young men, old men, women and children pushed and shoved for vantage points. Every window in the courthouse which faced on the yard was filled with other spectators.

Mother Gets In
Outside the courtroom as the crowd pushed back and forth, an aging woman, her face hidden by a black veil, tried futilely to get to the entrance.

Finally she attracted the attention of Deputy Sheriff Wes Coates and to him said: "Please may I get in, I'm his mother."

Coates took Mrs. Ida Stone into the courtroom, where an officer gave up his seat for her to witness the proceedings.

YOUTH LOSES HIS APPEAL

Numa Marlborough, 20, sentenced to the Preston school of industry for violation of probation, failed Friday to secure a writ of habeas corpus for his release. The writ was denied by Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

N. D. Meyer, counsel for young Marlborough, made his chief fight for the writ on the ground that the court did not comply with requirements of the law that it should sit as a juvenile court and the defendant should be made a ward of the court before the sentence was imposed.

Judge Ames indicated he believed this was the strongest argument in Mr. Meyer's battery of contentions, but that it wasn't strong enough to convince him.

Deputy District Attorney James Walker contended that the court's findings showed on their face that it was acting as a juvenile court and the boy was dealt with as a ward of the court. He argued that it was impossible to go back to the findings to determine what evidence was taken or orders made on these points.

A year ago Superior Judge James L. Allen granted probation for three years in connection with a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. One condition was that Marlborough should stay out of California. He returned and was arrested for violation of probation. He was sentenced to Preston for two years on Jan. 11.

C. C. TO BACK BUS SERVICE

The chamber of commerce will endorse any program in relation to proposals of the Santa Fe railroad to put a combined bus and rail service through Santa Ana that will improve transportation as a whole, the board of directors of the chamber decided this morning.

Following requests of the Santa Fe railroad for a chamber approval of its plans for the new service, made two weeks ago, representatives of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company appeared before the board this morning to request a non-partisan attitude on the part of the chamber. The Southern Pacific advanced the opinion that the matter should be decided by the state railroad commission on its merits.

A letter from E. C. Gregory, traveling freight agent of the Santa Fe, listing the possibilities of bigger payrolls and more taxes should the bus line be put through, was read to the group.

Secretary Howard I. Wood was instructed to write a letter to all companies concerned putting forth the stand of the chamber on the matter.

FIRE MENACES EL MODENA

The business district of El Modena was endangered on Friday afternoon when fire which broke out in a two-story business building housing a barber shop and pool room destroyed the structure.

Two state fire trucks from Orange, engine No. 2 of the Santa Ana fire department, and engines from the Orange fire department were called to assist in fighting the blaze.

State Fire Marshall Joe Sherman, Orange, said damage to the building amounted to approximately $800 and that the contents, which were destroyed, were valued at $600. The building, an old frame structure, was owned by C. Perez, and was covered by insurance.

The blaze was believed to have been caused by faulty wiring.

Water to extinguish the fire was pumped from a cistern on the El Modena Grammar school grounds, and firemen devoted their attention chiefly to saving the surrounding buildings.

Baseball Practice Lures '34 Prospects at Santa Ana High School

Column Left

Death on the Track
Fishing Note
Short Stuff

QUESTION: Is Bill White, the Santa Ana boy who is now promoter of the Ascot Speedway races, a victim of an unfortunate pre-race publicity statement?

Before yesterday's 200-lap event which brought death to Al Gordon, White was quoted as saying: "Those two seater drivers were unusually fortunate a month ago when they raced at Ascot. I hope their luck will continue, but with 10 high-powered cars being raced by as many intrepid drivers there is always a chance that traffic will become congested."

About 10,000 fans trekked to Ascot yesterday, perhaps some of them with White's thoughts ringing in their heads. Al Gordon, one of the most popular of the nationally-known drivers was killed. If any of the customers went there with the thought of seeing some terrific crash-up, and there are those who will tell you it is a popular hope—they were disappointed. The fatal crash took place on the south curve, out of sight of the grandstand.

All this is not meant to cast shadows over Mr. White's work at Ascot. He has been doing a fine job and has brought auto racing back to the top rung. It is only fair to point out that this is the first bad crack-up, while under the former regime they were the exception rather than the rule. And that's why the game all but died out.

Good news item for fishermen: Bonita are striking exceptionally well along Orange county shores. Yesterday trolling boats were thicker than Democrats in Washington from Newport to Laguna. "Buck," Gaines, our county editor whose column requires that he ramble around this territory, brings back the news that bonita are being caught as large as eight and 10 pounds. He's never trotted out fish dinners to uphold his story, but if he doesn't—well, we're gonna come right out in this department and accuse him of doing part of his rambling from the end of a trolling line.

Bill Majors, local Elksdom official, made our invitation to the big Elks "athletic night" legal the other day when he extended it personally. He was under the influence — not threateningly, however, of one of Joe Steel's barbers and he hustled off without making our thoughts as loud as they should have been. We hereby shout 'em from the figurative house top, for there are few things we like better than to be invited to mingle with those interested in sports—any variety.

Short stuff: Les Kennedy, who dropped out of boxing a year ago after nine long seasons in the game, is the latest to join the rasslin' racket. What's become of Don Benzo? Wee Willie Davis? Man Mabo's Deas agitation for an Orange county horse racing track? All the pleas for Promoter Sam Sampson to change to pro instead of amateur boxers?

How come no publicity stories about Primo (Satchel-Foot) Carrera recently? Wee Willie Davis to those nitwits who a few weeks ago were clamoring for the U. S. to boycott the Berlin Olympics? And has anyone the answer to this question: "Will Joe Rodgers remain in the National Night Ball league this season?"

DEADLINE NEAR FOR GOLFERS

Officials of the Willowick Country club today announced that Saturday is the deadline for qualifying in the club's men's tournament. Golfers may turn in their scores for the tourney, which is to be match play at handicaps, any time up to and including Saturday.

TENNIS CLUB'S FINALS NEAR

Preliminary matches safely hurdled, the Santa Ana Tennis club's favorites looked ahead today to the finals of the annual men's championships on the Frances Willard courts next Sunday. Toby White, the defending champion, will match his net skill with that of Fred Wiener; and Lewis Wetherell, White's supreme challenger, will face Bobby Peacock of Tustin in the semi-finals. All were impressive victories yesterday.

White eliminated Bob Mize, 6-4, 6-1; Wiener defeated Kenneth Ranney in three hard sets, 3-6, 6-2 and 6-4; and Ranney had put out Harold Lewis, 6-0, 6-1; Wetherell trimmed Harold, 6-0, 6-0, and blanked Carl Aubrey, 6-0, 6-0, after Aubrey had beaten Ferrin, 6-1, 6-4. Peacock downed Frank Bettis, 6-1, 6-0; and Halman de-

JIM WILKINS WILL PITCH FOR PREPS

Game With Pomona Set For Next Week; Bob McClure Missing

Baseball practice was in full swing at Santa Ana High school today, as Coach Clyde Cook's Saints set about preparing for their first competition, tentatively slated with Pomona's Cardinals of the Citrus Belt league a week from Friday.

Thirty-four prospects already have enrolled under the mentorship of the former Washington State university pitcher, and several more are due with the conclusion of the basketball season.

Lanky Jim Wilkins, who played second fiddle to Willie Jones, colored star, last spring, returns as the ace of Coach Cook's mound staff, which also includes Norman Wyckoff and Raymond O'Campo.

Loss of Big Bob McClure, first baseman who has been out of school all semester recovering from injuries received in a traffic accident, will be a severe blow to Santa Ana's chances in the Coast Preparatory league.

Three regular infielders—Hal Jesse, third baseman; Bobby White, short stop; and Duane Teel, catcher—are in suit, along with Ray Short's 1935 understudy at second, Harvey Hemphill. Bob Luxembourg, the fire chief's son up from junior high school, may fill McClure's shoes at the important first sack. Art Nielas and Joe Kadowski, regular outfielders, are back.

The Saints will play a double-round in Coast league company—San Diego, Long Beach Poly and Alhambra—and the usual schedule of exhibitions with Brea, Valencia and other county nines will be arranged.

Other candidates who have reported are Frank Tucker, Carroll Richardson, Harold Morris, Vern Mitchell, Jim Wendorf, Richard Pague, Jack Gardner, Robin McNeil, Alvin DeBord, Roy Warrecker, Herman Lewis, Frank Lopez, Harold Short, Joe Kadowski, Minoru Nitta, Ernest Barrett, Ferris Wall, Loren Seebor, Joe Standifer, Joe Ortega, Creighton Hunter, Lyle Meyer, Byron Barnette and Bob Reid. Short and Reid are football stars turning to the diamond for the first time here. Lopez, who transferred here in September, played with the American Legion's junior nine in New Mexico.

CHOTTEAU FAILS FOURTH TIME

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 27. (AP)—It's try, try again for Paul Chotteau, French violinist-athlete, who is determined to swim the 40-mile channel between Santa Catalina island and Santa Monica.

Re recuperated at a hospital from his fourth attempt, which ended Saturday night after he had paddled about half the distance in icy water, Chotteau announced another try in July and warmer temperatures.

He said it wasn't the distance, but the frigidity, that had halted him short of his goal.

LEG INJURIES NO HANDICAP These Great Milers Had 'Em

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Serious leg injuries during childhood apparently are what make champion milers.

Would-be track stars have three models to study this week when Glenn Cunningham, who says he owes his running ability to burns suffered in a schoolhouse fire, leads a big co action of famous runners, jumpers and weight tossers into Madison Square Garden for the 29th annual Millrose A. games.

The mighty Kansas developed his running ability because he had to exercise his legs to make them strong after that injury. Bill Bonthron, Princeton's great miler, also was burned as a child and now it developed that Archie San Romani, the Emporia Teachers college ace, who is slated to run against the more famous Kansas in the Wanamaker mile, went through similar development.

San Romani, an unknown until he won the National Collegiate A. A. mile title, suffered a fractured leg when run over by a truck and barely escaped an amputation. Exercises to strengthen the leg helped his development into stardom.

TROY OUSTED FROM LEAD BY REDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Week-end basketball upsets knocked University of Southern California from the lead of the southern division, Pacific Coast conference, dropped U. C. L. A. to the loop cellar and paved the way for a battle royal next Friday night between this week's victors, California and Stanford.

Lead in the scoring as usual by Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, sharp-shooting forward, Stanford's fast-moving Indians slid into the conference lead Saturday night with a 51-to-47 win over highly favored Trojans.

University of California eked out its first conference victories at the expense of the University of California at Los Angeles, winning the first game, 35 to 33, and the second, 30 to 26.

The present standing:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Stanford	4	1	.800
Southern California	3	2	.600
California	2	3	.400
U. C. L. A.	1	4	.200

YOUTH STEALS SPRINGS PLAY

PALM SPRINGS, Jan. 27. (AP)—Southern California golfers headed homeward today, with Frank (Bud) Taylor, Ontario schoolboy, carrying the winner's trophy of the first annual amateur tournament.

Taylor finished 36 holes of medal play with a card of 70-63-133. Second place winner was young Roger Kelly, Los Angeles, with a 69-69-138, and Jack Gaines, Glendale, state amateur champion, and Dick Ward, Los Angeles, with total scores of 139.

Handicap players in the Class B division bowed to Ed Vines, brother of Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena tennis star. Vines shot a 70-70-140.

Stanford Ace Hits Basket For 30 Points

PALO ALTO, Jan. 27. (AP)—If Pacific Coast basketball records hold a better individual showing that Angelo (Hank) Luisetti's 30 points in one game, hoop fans here were unable to find it today.

The 6 foot 2 1/2 in. Stanford sophomore dropped 11 field goals and nine free throws to give the Indians their 51 to 47 victory over U. S. C. Saturday night.

DONS BATTLE PANTHERS

EASTERN J. C. CONFERENCE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Riverside	3	0	1.000
Fullerton	1	0	1.000

San Bernardino	1	1	.500

Pomona, 38; Citrus, 30.
Santa Ana, 34; San Bernardino, 24.
Chaffey, 24; Santa Ana, 24.
Citrus at Fullerton.
San Bernardino at Pomona.
Riverside, bye.

Unbeaten Riverside, having conquered three straight rivals, was still setting a lightning pace in Eastern Junior college conference basketball today. Jesse Mortensen's Bengals unleashed a furious rally to strangle Chaffey's Panthers, 54 to 22, at Riverside Saturday night.

Pomona, with new talent that returned to eligibility last week, pulled a surprise in beating the Citrus Owls, 38 to 30, at Azusa, while Santa Ana, Fullerton and San Bernardino participated in byes.

Santa Ana's Dons, with eyes on their conference title, battled Phoenix Junior college's Bears from Arizona in Andrews gym tomorrow night. Following its rout at Riverside, Chaffey should be in a fighting mood against Al Reboin's quintets.

The Dons, who lost to Riverside, without Center Fred Erdhaus, but whipped Citrus, will virtually eliminate themselves with another set-back. At present, Riverside and Fullerton are favored to enter the two-out-of-three game championship series which follows the regular schedule.

GOGGIN, HUNTER CLASH IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Two California professionals, Willie Hunter of Los Angeles and Willie Goggin of San Francisco, tee off today in the 36-hole finals of the San Francisco match play open golf championship with the assurance the title and bulk of prize money will remain in this state.

Hunter, one-time holder of the British amateur crown, moved into the final bracket with a thrilling victory over Craig Wood of New York at the 19th hole of the semi-final 18 yesterday. Goggin, finalist in the 1933 P. G. A. open, blasted his way to a 3-and-one victory over Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles.

ASCOT CRASH FATAL TO RACERS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27. (AP)—W. E. (Spider) Matlock, mechanic riding with Al Gordon in a racing automobile which crashed at Ascot Speedway yesterday, joined the veteran pilot in death today.

Gordon, his skull fractured, chest crushed, died in a hospital a short time after the accident. Matlock, stunt artist, succumbed to internal injuries while his wife and 10-year-old boy kept an all-night vigil outside his room.

The veteran automobile race pilot from Long Beach, Calif., blew a tire on the 119th lap of a 200-lap grind and the machine crashed over the retaining wall.

Gordon died in a hospital a short time later, his skull fractured, chest crushed.

The rest of the starting field at Ascot raced through to the finish. Rex Mays, Riverside, won Louie Meyer, Huntington Park, whose brother Eddie gave Al Gordon his first speed run a dozen years ago, was second. Floyd Roberts was third.

Mrs. Helen Gordon and one of their two sons sat in the grandstand. They were out of sight, however, of the accident scene. She used to watch her husband race from the pit.

"I want to be the first to reach him if anything happens," she explained.

She reached him just about the time he died yesterday.

Many times the 34-year-old driver had beaten the accident jinx. In three starts in the Indianapolis speedway championships he went over the wall. Each time he grinned. The first time was in 1932. The next on the 57th lap in 1934. Last year, on the 17th lap, traveling 120 miles an hour, he crashed over the wall, and was thrown from his machine.

Laughing about the accident later, he laughed and related:

"I didn't have much time to think—I remember, though, saying 'Damn it, now I'll have to wait until next year.'"

The "next year" was to have been this year.

Gordon, who won most of his fame racing on the West Coast, was a former mail carrier at Redlands, Calif. Thrilled by a ride with Eddie Meyer, he deserted the mail-carrier job and began racing.

He won his first race at Banning soon after, about 12 years ago.

POLO TEAMS TIE

MAINTAINING MY LIFE ON THE BENCH

SANDOR WILL MEET BILL SLEDGE

Dick Tackles Freeman; Two Rematched for Next Monday

By FRANK ROGERS
Journal Sports Editor

Hoping to keep Dick Daviscourt and Sandor Szabo from precipitating another such demonstration as rocked the local wrestling arena last Monday night, but still keeping his weather eye cocked on the box office, Promoter Sam Sampson comes up with a rasslin' show for tonight that stars these two lads—but in different acts.

If they behave themselves tonight, Szabo and Daviscourt will be signed to meet each other soon—probably next Monday night.

Fight It Out
For the present, however—Sampson is still shaky over last Monday night's near riot—the two boys will content themselves with working out their fits of anger on different rivals. For those who haven't been getting their lessons lately, these two guys came mightily to blows last week at the conclusion of their rough stuff. There ensued the nearest thing to a man sized riot that has ever been the pleasure of local customers to see.

Tonight the boys probably will be well guarded to prevent any outbreaks in the dressing room before the show starts to tackle Bill Sledge, Dixie grappler of promise and before Daviscourt holds a rendezvous with one of his own kind—Mr. Herb Freeman, 210-pound Jewish Villain.

Both battles are three-half-hour time limit affairs, with the Szabo-Sledge tangle looming as the more potentially active of the two. Szabo is high in the ranks of those highly respected wrestlers who specialize in science—seasoned, both probably will have to make an entertaining dish. Sledge has appeared here only once, but grapevine rumors have it he is being groomed for a shot at Champ Vincent Lopez' title. He showed a liking for action in his battle here last week.

Outdo In Dirt
Daviscourt and Freeman—if they don't make your stomach turn—will probably try to outdo the other in dirty work with Daviscourt, the veteran of the two, favored to take an edge. In any event, both probably will have their fill of foul. No spectator love will be lost on either. Freeman, in two appearances here has tried to become a second Wee Willie Davis; Daviscourt earned the undying hate of the masses last week with his consistent choking tactics.

Charlie Stanton, 230-pound Missouri giant who comes tagged as the "Missouri Mainer" makes his first appearance in three years here when he faces Tony Racco, one of the many Italian grapplers now crowding into the game. Santos, so they tell us, faced Ev Marshall in the Municipal bowl here three years ago.

Joe Varga and the ever popular Milo (Bear Hug) Steinborn meet in the opening one-fall bout.

'TINY' SEEKING RULE CHANGES

PALO ALTO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Coach C. E. (Tiny) Thornhill of Stanford's championship football team leaves today for Pittsburgh with the avowed intention of urging the national football coaches' association to change three rules.

He said he wants the "slow whistle" abolished, the goalpost crossbar moved up to goal-line, and offensive team permitted to run with a recovered blocked punt.

Elks' Sports Program Set For Tuesday

Dean Cromwell, University of Southern California's famed track coach, will headline a program of speakers for the Santa Ana Elks' annual "Athletic Night" here tomorrow night.

Bill Henry, sports editor of the Los Angeles Times, who was to speak on the Olympics, will be unable to attend, it was announced today by Ralph (Bill) Cole, program chairman. Howard Jones and Sam Barry, football and basketball coaches at the Trojan institution, have been invited with Cromwell.

Santa Ana High school and Junior college football and basketball players will be special guests, along with the athletic captains of all county high schools and their coaches.

Gil Kuhn, captain-elect of the Trojan gridgers; Foy Draper and Ken Carpenter, U. S. C. track notables, also will be present. Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, Fullerton's sensational shortstop with the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Jim Musick of Trojan and Boston Redskins football fame, have been invited. Musick expects to secure members of the Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers as special guests.

The Lions, loser to the Wisconsin pros in two out of three games during the regular season, removed all doubt of their championship talents in 60 minutes of gridiron warfare before 22,000 spectators at Gilmore stadium yesterday.

Ace Gutowsky, 195 pounds of speed-charged fullback, ripped down left tackle and dashed 84 yards for a touchdown, leaving a trail of fallen Packers in his wake. Captain "Dutch" Clark dropped-kicked for the extra point. This was in the third period. The Packers, outscored but never outfought, made their 3 points in the second quarter. Starting from their own 30, Joe Laws, former University of Iowa star, Clark Hinkle of Bucknell and Bobby Monnett of Michigan State, reeled down to the Lion 30 with drives around the end.

Quarterback Hank Bruder called "Tar" Schwammel out of the line and the big 230-pounder from Oregon State kicked from place.

Spectacular work by the Lion ends, Butch Morse, Harry Ebbing, Ed Klewicki and John Schneller, broke down completely the famed aerial combination of Arnold Herber and Don Hutson, the ex-Alabama pass catching star.

They have rolled up four straight victories compared with four wins and one loss registered by the Stanford Indians, leaders in the southern division.

RECLAMATION CHIEF DIES IN EAST

Half Century Spent in Irrigation Work by Elwood Mead

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Federal officials today expressed regret at the death of Elwood Mead, irrigation specialist, and reclamation commissioner for more than a decade.

Mead, who observed his 78th birthday Jan. 16, died last night at his home here of thrombosis and the complications of old age. Mead had spent a half century in irrigation enterprises and in the last few years had been a directing force in the government's vast reclamation projects in the West. Back in 1888 he started an 11-year period as territorial engineer for Wyoming. Mead was professor of irrigation practices at the University of California from 1898 to 1907. In the latter year he resigned to take the chairmanship of the rivers and water supply commission of Victoria, Australia. He returned to the university in 1915.

Appointed reclamation commissioner by President Coolidge in 1924, Mead saw the development of the $165,000,000 Boulder canyon project which includes the Boulder dam and the All-American canal.

He was a native of Patriot, Ind., and was graduated from Purdue University in 1882.

ROTARIANS TO SEE 'QUEEN'

Queen Elizabeth has chosen to honor the Santa Ana Rotary club with her presence tomorrow at luncheon and will show these dignified gentlemen just how a queen ate in the good old days in Merrie England.

She travels with the Globe Theatre Players, who made a smashing success at the San Diego exposition, and are presenting two abridged plays, "Julius Caesar" and "The Comedy of Errors," tomorrow night at the Fullerton High school auditorium under the auspices of the Orange County Forum. After luncheon the queen will tour Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, holding court in various places. Between the two plays she will hold court at the Fullerton High school auditorium.

Student interest has been so great in these plays that the entire balcony and rear part of the auditorium has been given over to them. Laguna Beach is taking its students there by school bus, while Huntington Beach has two bus loads. Whittier, Santa Ana, Tustin, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea, Garden Grove and Norwalk are other schools with large groups attending.

FARM CREDIT POLICIES TOLD HERE BY OAKLAND CHIEF

Answering objections advanced by Orange county farmers to the methods of administering production credit associations, President T. P. Coats of the Production Credit Corporation of Oakland, here Saturday for the annual meeting of the Orange county association, outlined policies of associations throughout the state.

The Production Credit Association operates under the Farm Credit administration, and acts as an intermediary brokerage agency for the cooperative loan institutions known as production credit associations.

The production credit associations, in turn, provide crop loans, based on the estimated value of the crop, and in force for the life-time of the crop, to assist in farm operations from year to year.

What Farmers Want
At last week's convention here of Orange county farmers, specific requests were made of production credit heads, most important of which probably was a resolution asking a system which will permit the borrower to establish his credit rating at the time of the first loan, and to use that rating subsequently as a basis for establishing the amount of a loan, instead of adding costs and charges every year, in addition to the regular interest rate.

"The cost of yearly, or seasonal crop inspections," Mr. Coats said, "actually is about one fifth of 1 per cent of the amount borrowed—considerably less than the real cost of average 30, 60 or 90-day loans procured through other banking institutions."

Some criticism also has been leveled against the practice of requiring new loans, or refinancing of old loans, to be made at their termination, rather than offering an ordinary renewal basis.

For Life of Crop
"Our loans," Mr. Coats said, "are made for the life of the crop. This period is from several months to three years, depending on the commodity involved. We only loan amounts that can be repaid from the life of the crop, in order to be assured of a healthy credit status of each loan."

"Naturally under those conditions renewal is out of the question. Crop values fluctuate, and crop conditions also fluctuate, making the inspection at the time of application for a loan mandatory."

Production credit loans, he added, are disbursed to the farmers at the time they are needed. The farmer making a loan application submits to a crop inspection, or an inspection of goods or land offered as security for the loan.

Advantage to Growers
Together with the advisory financial committee of the association, headed by Secretary-Treasurer W. D. Miller, an operating budget is outlined, specifying the amounts needed for production, and the times at which they are needed. Amounts are disbursed from the loan total as the budget outlines.

"Where this operates to the growers' advantage," Mr. Coats explained, "is that interest is charged only on the amounts disbursed, at the time they are used. While our interest rate nominally is 5 per cent, actually the farmer pays about 1.27 per cent on his total loan. Our interest is figured monthly on a 12-month basis. In other words the interest rate is 5 per cent for the year, paid in monthly installments, on such parts of the loan as are actually in use."

"At the time the borrower is granted a loan, what actually happens is that he opens a line of credit for the lifetime of his crop, and can borrow any amounts up to the loan total, until that crop is harvested."

"Red Tape Necessary"
"As for the inspections and necessary red tape insuring the safety of the loan," he said, "these are made absolutely necessary in that the association is actually owned by the borrowers. The Production Credit Corporation acts as a dispenser of government funds, under the Farm Credit administration. We definitely do not want, and can not exist with, bad loans."

The main reasons for the life of the production credit associations, he said, are first, that they are borrower-owned, second, that they offer low interest rates and make mandatory the use of a farm-budget operating system, and last, that in the case of any further agricultural crisis the farmer

'TRUTH' SUBJECT OF SCIENCE CHURCH SUNDAY LESSON

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text was from Isaiah: "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth."

The Lesson-Sermon included these selections from John: "Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews? . . . Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews; but now is my kingdom not from hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king? Then Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and to this cause came I into the world, that I

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS MAP COUNTER-ATTACK ON AL SMITH

ICKES FLAYS
'SOCIALISM'
ATTITUDEHoover Made Identical
Charge, He Asserts;
Robinson to Talk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Silent for the most part, New Deal leaders today charted their campaign strategy in view of Alfred E. Smith's threat to "take a walk" if the Democratic convention in June indorses what Smith assails as Socialistic powers of the Roosevelt administration.

Whether the administration will speak softly in an effort to prevent a wide-open schism in the party, or whether it will go to Smith hammer and tongs is expected to be known shortly.

Work on Reply
Senator Robinson (D., Ark.), majority leader at the senate and Smith's running mate in 1928, was at work on a reply he will deliver to a nationwide radio audience at 10:45 p. m., Eastern standard time, (7:45 p. m., Santa Ana time), tomorrow night.

A quick reply to Smith came from Secretary Ickes. Speaking to a Town Hall forum audience last night, Ickes referred to Smith's charges that New Deal policies are Socialistic.

"Mr. Smith," Ickes said, "spoke of the foul breath of Communism. He referred to the flag of the Goddess of the Soviet. But what did Al Smith say in 1928 in reply to Hoover?"

Then Ickes went on to say that Herbert Hoover had accused Smith of trying to lead the nation into Socialism, and that Smith had replied: "The cry of Socialism has been shouted by powerful interests. That is to put a damper on progressive legislation."

"I have heard it raised by reactionary elements and Republicans in my state for a quarter of a century."

Speaking in the same forum, Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, referred ironically to "those who had become apostles of Thomas Jefferson in the last few months."

Wave of Guesswork
"In January, 1933," Barkley said, "Governor Smith suggested the creation of a public works dictator and declared that the United States declaration should be placed on the shelf during the emergency."

A wave of guesswork seldom equalled in the capital followed Smith's onslaught on the New Deal, made in a speech to the American Liberty League dinner Saturday night.

"How far would Smith go on that 'walk'—a word which was generally interpreted to mean a bolt from the convention? Would he strive actively to unseat President Roosevelt, even to the extent of backing another ticket; or would he merely retire to an inactive status, perhaps taking a trip to Europe during the campaign?"

Political experts recalled that Smith had said he would remain a Democrat. His statement that he was not a candidate and would not lift a hand to obtain any nomination led many to rule out the possibility that he would head a rival ticket. Some others reminded that he did not say he would not accept a nomination.

For the time being at least, President Roosevelt was silent on his one-time associate's charge that the administration had tossed most of the 1932 Democratic platform "in the waste basket."

D. A. V. CHAPTER TO VISIT LOS ANGELES
In return courtesy to Los Angeles chapter No. 4 of Disabled American Veterans, a delegation from Jack Fisher chapter will attend this meeting in Patriotic hall, Los Angeles, tonight.

Commander Van Leonard Brown will head the delegation. Past commanders' night will be observed.

Transportation can be arranged by calling 3610 and 5224-J. Cars expect to leave Santa Ana at 6:30 o'clock.

PUFFY
Puffy leans from his rocket and gulps with alarm.
"Ho hi!" chirps this fellow, and raises his arm.
"Who ARE you?" yells Puffy.
"And where am I going?"
The man points ahead, where a dim light is glowing.

Administration Faithless
To Its Platform, Liberty
League Told by Al Smith

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—In a searing denunciation of the administration as faithless to the platform on which it was elected, Alfred E. Smith gave notice Saturday night he will "take a walk" during the Presidential campaign unless Roosevelt policies are repudiated at Philadelphia.

There are only two recourses open to "disciples of Jefferson and Jackson and Cleveland," he told a cheering American Liberty League audience.

May Take Walk
"We can either take on the mantle of hypocrisy or we can take a walk—and we probably will do the latter," he said.

The words fell upon the eager ears of foremost members of both major parties, some of whom had been asking whether the "Happy Warrior" of 1928 might not join an independent party movement at the expense of the New Deal or possibly support a Republican nominee.

They found he left unanswered whether or how he might seek about the "reestablishment" of party principle.

Warning Given
Class warfare and bureaucratic domination of the citizenry impend, Smith warned, should the present "Socialistic" federal course be continued.

"There can be only one capital—Washington or Moscow," he continued with a vigor that flushed his already ruddy cheeks.

"The people can breathe the clear, fresh air of America or the foul breath of soviet Russia."

"If the constitution wins, we win! The constitution has already won—but the news has not reached certain ears."

Drowned by Cheers
His next words were drowned out by cheering and laughter from the crowd which jammed the ballroom of the Mayflower hotel. It was in the same room, and before a scene similarly resplendent, that President Roosevelt recently pledged to the Jackson Day dinner that "we will not retreat."

HAGGIS ENTICES SCOTCHMEN
Center Of Burns Dinner Fun
Haggis, famous Scottish pudding, was the center of a celebration held here Saturday night in honor of the anniversary of the Scotch poet, Robert Burns. Haggis, a subtle concoction wrapped in a sheep's stomach, was brought into the banquet room of the American Legion hall on a tray carried by two Scotch lassies, accompanied by bagpipers.

Toastermaster Alex Walker, clad in colorful Scottish kilts, gave the toast to haggis. With a quick thrust of a long knife, he opened the steaming pudding amid the applause of the hundreds of Orange county Scotchmen who attended the feast. Following the ceremonies of welcoming haggis to the banquet, dinner was served by members of the Santa Ana American Legion women's auxiliary.

There were toasts to the President, to the King of England, to the lassies and to the laddies, and to the immortal memory of Robert Burns. A few tears were shed when the gathering sang and sang, "God Save Our King."

During the banquet, Mr. Walker announced that plans are in progress for construction of a replica of Robert Burns' home in Hillside park, Fullerton. Plans and specifications for the structure are being sent here from Scotland, he said, and when the building is completed it will be an exact production of the famous poet's home.

The program, consisting of Scotch music and folk dances, followed the banquet. Those who participated in the program were Robert Brown, Jenny Dixon, Ruth Armstrong, Catherine Mathison, Barbara Oliphant, Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, T. M. Sutherland and Agnes Wallace. The banquet was concluded when the entire gathering sang "Auld Lang Syne."

ASK CHECK OF STAR BURIED
TEACHERS BY SNOW

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27. (AP)—Superintendent Frank A. Boule advocated today immediate fingerprinting of the 11,000 teachers and 4,000 non-certified employees in the Los Angeles school system.

He announced he would submit the proposal at tonight's board of education meeting, because the recent survey which disclosed 263 non-teaching employees with police records had cast suspicion on the entire personnel.

The board, engaged in a drastic "housecleaning," is expected to extend a two-weeks suspension of civil service regulations to preclude the possibility of discharged employees demanding a hearing.

DEATH TAKES
A. G. DIEHL
IN AUTOTownsend Worker Suffers
Fatal Heart Attack
While Driving

The Townsend movement in Santa Ana today had lost one of its most ardent campaigners in the death of A. G. Diehl, 76, for whom funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. in the Win-bigger chapel. Mr. Diehl died "in the harness" at about 5 p. m. Saturday while distributing Townsend literature, in company with Mrs. Helen Epplé, a friend, visiting here from Colorado.

Mrs. Epplé, with her husband, George Epplé, was visiting Saturday at the Diehl home, 605 East Chestnut. She accompanied Mr. Diehl late in the afternoon while he was distributing Townsend literature. He was driving his car south on McClellan street near McClellan street when he was attacked by a heart ailment.

Plan No Inquest
Mrs. Epplé told him to pull the car to the curb, which he did. A short time later Mr. Diehl had succumbed. A physician and coroner Earl Abbey were called. Death was attributed to the heart attack. There will be no inquest.

Mr. Diehl had lived in Santa Ana for the past 18 years, coming here from Edgar, Neb. He had been active in civic affairs and was known in recent years as an advocate of strict economy in city government. Since the Townsend old age pension movement began he has devoted virtually all his time to it and was president of the original Townsend club here, club No. 1.

Body to Go East
The Rev. Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate at services tomorrow. Later the body will be sent to Edgar, Neb., where it will be laid beside that of Mrs. Diehl, who died about six years ago.

Mr. Diehl is survived by a brother, Frank H. Diehl of Bennett, Neb., and two cousins, Mrs. Elita R. Holmes of Pasadena, and Ira L. Cross of Hilton, N. Y.

Miss Bessie Fulkerson, 82, a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Diehl, has been housekeeper at the Diehl home for the past 18 years.

Critical Times Faced England
As George V Ascended ThroneBy MELVIN E. COLEMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
The place in history of George V can, at this early day, be keyed by his personal motto:

"The secret of life is not to do what one likes, but to try to like what one has to do."

That "try" is eloquent to those who studied him and his reign. It reflects his sudden transformation in 1902 when his elder brother, the Duke of Clarence, died and George, second son of Edward VII, became Prince of Wales. It recalls the scarcely concealed distaste with which he went about the business of appearing at the laying of cornerstones, dedication of hospital wards and all the other occasions to which the heir to the throne must lend "the grace of his presence."

Saw Many Changes
It tells too of the change of the man from a disciplined officer of His Majesty's navy, dedicated to the status quo and traditions of the world-wide empire, into a monarch who could go along with such changes as the partition of Ireland, the elevation of workmen to the peerage, the acceptance of women as part and parcel of the administration and the spread of self-government to teeming, illiterate India.

With outward equanimity he saw the development of authority among the dominions of Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand until they became self-sufficient to such an extent that in the closing years of his reign they were making treaties of their own with other nations.

Economic disaster overtook the home country in his post-war years. His was the passage of the "shop act," establishing the possible disintegration of the British empire.

Lords Under Fire
When George took the throne the mother country was engulfed in approaching climaxes. The house of lords, bulwark of the past, was under fire of the rising tide of the growing liberal and labor parties. Suffragettes, finding half a century of argument had gotten women no closer to the vote, were turning to militancy, smashing windows, breaking the heads of commons and defying the police.

Irish nationalists, smarting under reiterated failures of home rule measures, were vocal and hostile. Cubism in painting and synecopation in music were signs of the new age.

Abroad, Germany, imbued with the doctrine of the inevitability of "der Tag," was stirring international problems in the Mediterranean region and in the heart of Africa. France, England and Russia were but lately aligned in an entente to maintain the European balance of power against the triple alliance of Germany, Austro-Hungary and Italy. The Balkans were blazing in wars against Turkey and among themselves.

Inherited Grave Problems
The suave Edward VII, man of the world in both cultural and political fields, was counted upon to smooth out many of these rough spots. His death May 6, 1910, following a cold contracted at Sandringham, dumped these problems in the lap of his son.

Herbert Asquith, prime minister of England, had his hands full at this stage. Trade unionism was booming; it gained membership from 2,500,000 in 1907 to 4,000,000 in 1914. One result of this was the passage of the "shop act," establishing the weekly half-holiday for workers. But a railways strike in the summer of 1911 testified to the demand for more sweeping changes.

In 1911 too the Agadir incident, actuated by the impulsive German kaiser, showed how delicate was the balance between war and peace.

Passage of an Irish home rule bill early in 1914 was preceded by threats of civil war on the part of Ulsterites and followed by preparations for open conflict. On July 20 King George summoned an Irish conference at Buckingham Palace, it broke up indecisively. But on July 28 the heir to the Austrian throne was assassinated at Sarajevo and the European powder keg blew up.

125 Couples Throng Dance Floor At Annual Party

Lagunalog

Chatter of Doings at Laguna Beach

By MAXINE STOREY

Comes news this week of awards, ambitions, and coming events in our much-talked-of art colony. Perhaps it's the weather or mayhap it's the coming new showing in the art gallery, but at any rate everyone is talking art... paintings... or... artists' names. Many congratulations have been pouring in to young Seymour Paul whose mural, "Youth and Education," is hung in the Pan-Pacific club in the student's lounge way off in Hawaii.

One wouldn't be far wrong in saying that Mr. Paul is our youngest artist. He is the son of Mrs. William Pitts, curator of the art gallery... Art awards given by the board of directors of the art gallery were announced this week and Ruth Peabody becomes the proud owner of the prize for the best painting in the December-January exhibit. Her painting was a figure entitled "Margot." Ivan Messenger receives the second award for his painting, "Gold Gulch," and Grace Volmer was given honorable mention for her canvas, "St. Joseph," which showed the interior of a chapel... Meanwhile the new Mrs. Lawrence O. Bartell (Ruth Collins) proudly displays a painting given to her as a wedding present from artist, Frank O. Griffith.

William A. Griffith spends his precious hours between teaching in doing a portrait of Antony Anderson, former critic on the Los Angeles Times and now a beloved figure on Laguna streets... Eleanor Colburn will show one of her studies in the coming show at the Santa Monica library... popular president, George K. Brandriff receives all sorts of praise from Tucson where he has a one-man show... and Lagunatics eagerly await the coming February-March exhibit.

Theaters are sharing honors with progressive artists these days. The week brought reports from Hollywood and Pasadena where Lagunatics are busily crashing the professional ranks or continuing in their various careers along that line. Hear from Din Diggs, who week-ended, that Vic Rankin and Ray Grimes each do their bit in the Pasadena Playhouse production, "Yellow Jack"... Dean Benton has just finished two pictures at M-G-M and is now excited over his part in the "Romeo and Juliet" production starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard... Jane Storey calms herself a bit and looks a bit wide-eyed after several days' work in the new "Charlie Chan" thriller... and the Lagunaloger finds herself minus a helper due to the opening of "The Petrified Forest" in San Francisco.

Seen about the village... Charlie Gilmore with nose pressed against a boulevard window "tryin' t' figure out why they're tearin' the place down"... Jack Chambers causing 5 o'clock shoppers to perk up a bit as he strolled the street in a very bright yellow sweater... Barbara Page sporting a "new" Nash and a grin from ear to ear... Leora Shopshire breezing by in a shiny green Oldsmobile... Rog Young and his mother renting an apartment for a month "to spend the week-ends away from the awful city"... Ed Ainsworth entertaining with a Sunday buffet luncheon... and Mickey Ahern with his arm in a sling and a huge gash on his head from the almost-fatal accident in Costa Mesa last week; friends dash in to the city to wish him well and hope that his trial comes out o.k.

What do Laguna lassies and young misses do with their spare

In the receiving line to welcome the arriving guests were Mrs. Charles Woodfill in white crepe with silver-beaded jacket and choker of gardenias, Miss Louise Pee in black crepe with braided armholes and ornamenting in the back, and gardenias, Miss Marcene Cook in black crepe dinner dress with slit decolletage and gardenias, and Mrs. Walter Stark in deep blue velvet with gold metallic trim and gardenias. Edwin Stauss and Walter Hart of the fraternity assisted in the receiving duties.

Don Clark's Collegians from Fullerton provided music for dancing. Punch was served in the intermission.

Seen Dancing
Others seen dancing were Miss Roselind Schilling in wine velvet shirtmaker with gold accents and tulle roses... Mrs. Harold LaPelle in green tulle frock, gold metallic threaded... Miss Jerry Green in black lace with wide green sash and gardenias. Miss Eleanor Morilla in wine velvet and tulle roses, her sorority's national flower... Mrs. Roderick Smiley in red tulle, period style with rhinestone clips at the shoulder and a full train, and gardenias... Mrs. Robert Walker in black formal with banded cellophane collar and cuffs, and gardenias.

Miss Jo Ann Schott in blue and white plaid tulle and gardenias... Mrs. Meredith Crumley in white tulle tunic with standup collar, gold-thread effect, and white skirt... Miss Marge Berkner in black crepe with little white jacket, full-sleeved and caught at the wrist with tight cuffs and gardenias.

May Be Another Dance
Miss Estelle Schlesinger in black lace frock, banded at the hemline with a wide ruffle and setting off her attractive black hair... Mrs. Chester Siegel in smart white crepe two-piece gown which accented her black braided coiffure... Miss Martha Wallingford in flame crepe with high neckline, long sleeves, slit back and gold metallic flowers clustered at the neckline... Miss Ruth Owens in black velvet with orchid velvet jacket and gardenias.

Already, there are plans in the air for a summer dance to be sponsored.
time? To be sure Laguna isn't exactly conducive to washing dishes, sweeping floors, or dusting whatnots all day. For instance, Diggs, who week-ended, that Vic Rankin and Ray Grimes each do their bit in the Pasadena Playhouse production, "Yellow Jack"... Dean Benton has just finished two pictures at M-G-M and is now excited over his part in the "Romeo and Juliet" production starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard... ## Mary Stoddard Girls Who Go With Married Men Are Chumps, Writes Reader Whose Friend Did

The case of the wife versus the girl is again before the court of Public Opinion!

A girl, 24 years old, who signed herself "Terribly Unhappy," wrote this department asking for help. She's desperately in love with a married man who claims to be just as much in love with her, but, she "cruel" wife won't divorce him, so what can he do about it?

Comes now a young woman to try to clear the smoke screen for what she terms these "sneaky-time girls." Her letter follows: My Dear Miss Stoddard: The letter in your column recently concerning the girl who gave up all her friends and wasted years on a married man, made me wonder why girls are so dumb in this particular matter.

The following reasons ought to convince them that such men do not have the right regard for them:

Does He Take You Places
1: A man who really loves and respects a girl, is proud of her, wants his friends and relatives to meet her, and is only too anxious to appear in public with her. Girls are your married lovers eager to appear in public with you and anxious to have you meet their friends?

2: A man who has the right feeling toward a girl will not take chances with her reputation. If these men really loved the girls they take out they would secure a divorce and then go with them openly.

3: When it comes to show-down between the wife and the man's "Sneaky-Time Gal" who wins? The wife, 99 times out of a hundred. I have known a good many cases like this and in every case I have known the man crawled back to his wife yelling and crying for forgiveness.

He Married Another Girl
I lived in an apartment for three years with a girl who thought a married man was in love with her. She sat home night after night thinking he might phone. He certainly had a romantic line and made her think she was a combination of Helen of Troy and Cleopatra. All he could talk of was how happy they would be when he would get his freedom from his wife, "who didn't understand him." Well, his wife finally divorced him and he dropped my friend immediately, eventually marrying another girl. My friend blames him bitterly and says her life is ruined. I don't blame him. Why should he marry a girl who has shown herself to be so dumb and whom he had made a fool of? He didn't ruin her life, she ruined her own life. Use your heads, girls, and don't be some married man's "Sneaky-Time Gal" for the feeling which prompts them to seek your company is not to your credit.

Merry Party Celebrates Wedding

You may think anything that happened 25 years ago is "old news," but the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Borchard of Greenville was important enough to attract 150 relatives and friends from far and near to a celebration in the Borchard ranch home.

A barbecue was served at noon, and the afternoon and evening were spent in dancing. A huge silver wedding cake was served amid toasts and gaiety. Gus Malhart of Los Angeles was master of ceremonies. Numerous silver gifts were received.

Present were four of the hosts' five children, Vincent, Bernice, Velma and Anita Borchard of the home. Miss Bernice Borchard helped with the hostessing. Another daughter, Frances, who is in school in Wisconsin, was unable to be present.

Also among the guests were brothers of Antonio Borchard, Charles E. Leo and Frank Borchard of Santa Ana, Caspar Borchard of Ventura county, and three sisters, Mrs. Rose Kelly, Miss Mary Borchard and Mrs. Ed Borchard, of the same place.

FRIENDLY CIRCLE HAS POT-LUCK MEET AT CHURCH

Pot-luck supper at the First Methodist church was the gathering place for members of the Friendly circle class last Friday night.

Program and decorations followed a Lincoln motif. Apples had been used as foundations for a display of small American flags to deck the tables.

Russell Crouse sang several numbers and the Rev. William White, Laguna Beach, gave tribute to the life of the great emancipator.

A Biblical contest closed the entertainment.

In charge of the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stockbrand, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barnard and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Bennett.

PARKS—HOW—WHEN

WITH special emphasis as to parks, a historical review of the philanthropic contributions of Jotham Bixby, Sr., to the city of Long Beach recently appeared in a Southern California newspaper.

Mr. Bixby's benefactions include Pacific park (now Lincoln park) and the beautiful Bixby park, where thousands find rest and recreation under shade of trees, where laughing children romp and play under proper care, where tired mothers relax, and where weary men go for rest and comfort.

It must have been that Jotham Bixby loved his fellow men, because he made such provision for their comfort. It must have been that he felt an obligation, because he met the call in his gifts to mankind.

Some day some citizen of Santa Ana perhaps, seeing the need for a safe place for children to play and expand their lungs in healthful exercise, will meet the emergency and build a monument of out-of-door joy in which his fellow citizens can share.

Although the finest city in the Southland, Santa Ana is so deficient in parks that reference to the matter becomes a civic humility. We hope earnestly that the present general discussion will lead to a solution of the park question—not from the point of neighborly rivalry—but for the welfare of citizens who would welcome a place to rest and enjoy the wholesome rejuvenation which nature provides.

If things were half as bad in this country as some of the speech-making politicians claim, half of the people would have moved out long ago.

NEW AID TO LUMBERING

SCIENCE comes forth with a new process which may revitalize the Northwest's great lumber industry. This is a process for fire-proofing wood.

Since man moved out of caves, wood has been his most standard building equipment. Down through the centuries new and cheaper ways of preparing it, new principles of construction have been devised, yet wood's greatest drawback as a building material remained. That is the fact that it will burn. Many ways of treating it have been tried, but no commercially available method of fireproofing has been discovered, until now.

Despite increased efficiency of fire-fighting methods, fires during 1935 cost the United States 10,000 human lives, and $245,000,000.

Now the national board of fire underwriters, a cautious and conservative organization, announces that its experts have tested a new fireproofing process for wood, and have found it practical. Wood, so treated, refused to burn under tremendous heat.

If adopted universally, this fireproofing of wood will be the most important forward step in the history of the lumber industry and should, in a few years, immeasurably increase the world's demand for its product.

The Northwest, within a few years, may be able to thank science for adding millions of dollars to its payrolls.

Rainbow lips are said to be coming in style. With a pot of cold cream at the end of them, we suppose.

MUSICIANS GO ROUND

BECAUSE of an argument among men who own rights to words and music of many songs, more than 30,000 musical numbers have been withdrawn from the air, which is why you are being surfeited with so many old time songs.

To anyone who knows anything about music, this is rather funny, because there hasn't been any new music written for a century. Every song is merely a synthesis of musical phrases from other songs.

The classic example, of course, is "Yes, We Have No Bananas." The "Yes, we have no" is a steal from "Hallelu-jah!" in the Handel oratorio. "We have no bananas today" is "O, bring back my bonnie to me." Every other phrase in the music is a steal from some other piece of music.

Most musicians will tell you that it is impossible to write six original bars of music. It has all been written, over and over again.

But you can still take one bar from a hymn, another from a forgotten musical comedy, a third from an old German lieder and a fourth from the Austrian national anthem—put them all together, write something about moon, June, soon and tune—and copyright the concoction.

Betting has doubled at Santa Anita race track. Must be a case either of more money or more suckers.

A BOLT FROM THE SKY

ANew sort of news story, but one which may become all too common as the years progress, appeared a day or so ago in the Southern California newspapers. Here it is:

"A three-pound antenna weight, accidentally dropped from an airplane circling overhead, today went through the flank of a horse grazing in a San Pedro corral and injured the animal so badly that its owner, Mrs. A. C. Girard, said the animal would be of no further use for riding purposes."

Just as sure as planes fly, other three-pound weights, and 30-pound weights, and other weights, from time to time will fall from airplanes circling over inhabited spots. And they will fall perhaps on horses, perhaps on automobiles, perhaps on playing children, perhaps on houses. And they will work severe injury where they strike. It is one of those inescapable penalties we have to pay for the ever-complicating, ever-interesting new kind of life we are evolving.

Whimsies

of O. O. McIntyre

Diary: In a chuckle at breakfast recalling the hillbilly Weavers and Elvira, of vaudeville, and vira, snapping at an usher: "Quit runnin' up and down that izzle!" And the first letter I opened was from Elvira now living in San Francisco, which Ripley may believe or not.

So abroad and in the foyer came upon Dean Palmer showing off for a hunt in Mississippi. Then meeting my lady at a dressmaker's and fascinated by the leopardess slink of a mannikin. And to a cocktail party for my favorite mimic, Sheila Barrett, and much hanky-panky talk with Lois Long.

Minnie C. Vasey to dinner and afterward driving her to Forest Hills and stopped by the Burns Mantles but they out. And returning to the city a barking dog dashed out and we thought him run over but untouched. Yet so afraid I could not sleep and read Pearson's "More Studies in Madness."

Bill Hawkins was talking over the telephone in New York to Robert Scripps at his Miramar estate in San Diego. In the midst of it a secretary informed him Roy Howard was on the phone in Java. "I'll have to cut off this local call," sputtered Hawkins. "Long distance is calling."

Six years ago Frazier Hunt interviewed King Alfonso at the palace in Madrid, for Cosmopolitan magazine. A few weeks ago Hunt came upon the ex-king, a sartorial ensemble in coffee brown save for a blood-red peep of breast pocket kerchief, in the lobby of the Grand hotel in Rome, where he has a suite. They repaired to his apartment for reunion. But not without Alfonso exacting a promise nothing would be written about him. "Is there anything so forlorn," he sighed, "as the mouthings of a de-throned monarch?"

Personal nomination for the slickest set of sideburns in town—those of Emil Coleman.

The blond, left-handed orchestra leader, Ray Noble, has become the big draw among collegiates. That, of course, means he's the current musical heart-throb of the vivacious young boarding school ladies who like to go places and "dawdle." Rather handsome in a Vernon Castle loose, string beany way, he has the appearance of a lackadaisical pop and with little of that evanescent something dubbed personality. He stands in chilly aloofness, directing with a bored and slow wrist wrangle. His smile has the quick glint of coral. But he does things with music. That counts.

The deadliest insult to a cafe performer is to toss a coin at his feet in mid of applause. Yet not many big names have escaped. It usually comes with the 2 a. m. show from some well-oiled customer. The other night a penny plinked in front of a $1500 a week female singer. She ignored it. Then came a nickel. Singing her encore, she made her way to the culprit's table, stood before him singing and smiling. Suddenly she stopped, raised her hand for silence, pointed to him and moaned: "To think Mickey Mouse descended from this!"

In the same night place—I've been a dirty stay-out again!—our host was one of the wearied men about town. Someone attracted by a honey-haired, emerald lady across the room, inquired who she was. Said the m. a. t.: "She, oh, she, that is she's the idle memory of a golden dream."

Bagatelles: Dorothy Thompson's father was a preacher. Strange doves and pigeons will always hover around Cecil B. DeMille. Queen Wilhelmina eats a small steak for breakfast, but no other meat all day. . . . Meredith Nicholson, minister to Venezuela, learned to speak Spanish fluently in six weeks. . . . Hugh Walpole carries a case of 16 favorite pipes when traveling. . . . Peggy Joyce often visits four night clubs an evening, rushing home to change dress for each.

Corey Ford, who lives in Freedom, N. H., to be with his hunting dog, was first of the now numerous writers to become fixated to a bouncing trout fly. His name, sake, the Corey Ford fly, has a cream-colored body, gray wings, light gray hackle and a gray tail. While Ford's hackle is turning a little gray, especially at the temples, there the resemblance ceases. His body is the conventional pink and he never wears a gray tail save at morning weddings. All he needs now is a Corey Ford trout to take the fly!

(Copyright, 1936)

Had Mr. Roosevelt recited the Ten Commandments, they (the Republicans) would have accused him of plagiarism. . . . Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic floor leader.

We pay more to maintain self-respect and the good opinion of others, and to avoid scorn, derision, and shame, than to keep our bodies fed and free from the distress of hunger.—Dr. E. L. Thorndike, addressing U. S. scientists.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

"I never tweeze my eyebrows at home. Say, that's the least I can do for myself on the boss's time."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—In-side word among Al Smith's close friends is that he is being groomed by Tammany to be mayor of New York in 1937. Al's Liberty League speech was said to be the touch-off in this drive.

Tammany leaders, bitter at Roosevelt because of the way he has played ball with Mayor La Guardia in granting relief funds and patronage, are reported to be ready to gang up on the President.

It is not unlikely that the 1936 election will find the Democratic machine in New York City throwing its weight against a Democratic President and for the Republicans. If so, Roosevelt will lose New York state.

Certainly if Al Smith has his way that will happen.

PERFECT TECHNIQUE

For real artistry in glad-handing Senator "Jim Ham" Lewis is in a class by himself. While standing in a Washington hotel lobby the magniloquent toupee-wearing Illinoisian was greeted by an acquaintance, who asked to present a friend.

The friend had never met Lewis before, knew him only by reputation. But "Jim Ham," ever the canny politician, took no chances. With great warmth he exclaimed: "My dear sir, so nice to see you—AGAIN!"

BIG NO MAN

Quiet-mannered W. Frank Persons, director of the U. S. employment service, is rapidly becoming one of the most unpopular executives in the New Deal. Two potent groups are after his scalp, but so far he has persisted unyieldingly on his policies.

The cause of Persons' disfavor can be summed up in one word—patronage. Democratic politicians are up in arms because he insists on civil service appointees in his bureau. Laborites are bitter because he is leading up his staff with college men.

The union leaders angrily contend that practical men taken from trade ranks, would make better employment directors than college graduates who may know little or nothing about working-men's jobs.

Persons, a former Russell Sage foundation researcher, can't see the argument of either group. To the politicians he replies that the only way to build up an efficient, trustworthy service is to pick men solely on the basis of merit and give them permanence of tenure. To the laborites he retorts that directing an employment office requires more background and training than trade experience.

How long Persons will be allowed to hew to the lofty line he has set remains to be seen. With the 1936 campaign looming he may find that the demands of politics are more powerful than those of principle.

FEDERAL THEATER

It troubles Hallie Flanagan that she can't put elephants on relief. "I have a friend who is a first-class circus performer, but he can't do his act without elephants. I wish we could." Hallie Flanagan is a blonde, school-marmish little woman of 34, who left off being director of dramatics at Vassar college to become director of the biggest theatrical producing organization in the world. It is the WPA theatrical project. She has 50 plays in rehearsal at one time, employs 7351 actors and stage-hands.

Half of these are men and women who have been pounding the sidewalks of Broadway. The other half come chiefly from Los Angeles, Boston and Chicago. But by a recent ruling, they can perform outside their own states.

Miss Flanagan says actors are getting over the sense of shame they had about being in a relief troupe.

"We've got some of the best known actors in the country," she boasts. "And playwrights, too. But they are working at research projects."

RESEARCH PLAYS

The trick here is that if a playwright writes a play on Uncle Sam's time, the play becomes the property of the government. So they do "research work" for their relief wage, and creative work on the side.

Hallie Flanagan got a reputation for sternness when she once reprimanded President McCracken of Vassar for being late at a rehearsal. Fact is, however, she is timid and press-shy.

Harry Hopkins, drafted Miss Flanagan because he knew her at Grinnell college, Iowa, where they both studied. But Miss Flanagan prefers to speak not of Grinnell, but of Radcliffe and Vassar. When her study of the Russian theater is mentioned, she prefers to stress that she studied also in Greece and Africa.

Like Frances Perkins, Miss Flanagan is a "Lucy Stoner," uses her maiden name. In private life she is Mrs. Philip H. Davis, wife of Vassar's professor of Greek.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

AAA legal experts are confident that the supreme court will not throw out their marketing agreements. They are all primed for the test, their accord being a 1922 decision, in which both McReynolds and Van Devanter took a stand that states could not regulate purchase of agricultural commodities destined for interstate commerce. The inference was that this was the federal government's business. This looks like an out for marketing agreements. . . .

The President has received a letter from a Florida applicant who describes himself as "an inventor of a artikel that is mad out of tin can," and offers to "open a factory that can be controlled by the government and I can work 100 or 200 men and woman and they sell like hot cake." . . . Harry Hopkins is between the devil and the deep sea. Congressmen have complained to him that his statistical projects, with house-to-house canvassing, are a nuisance to householders.

Other congressmen urge more statistical projects to provide jobs for their constituents. Total WPA funds allotted to figure-finding thus far are just under $96,000,000. . . . WPA's federal theater project is developing a drama center for Negroes in New York's Harlem, to give plays of Negro life. . . . WPA pulled in the reins on Mrs. Roosevelt's gift horse the other day. An Arkansas family she had helped with several gifts of the odd sum of $45, wrote to her saying they needed a horse. She asked WPA to see that they got it. But WPA investigated, found there was no urgent need. Mrs. Roosevelt bowed her way out.

SUPREME COURT CRITICISM

(From Orange Daily News)

While our local butchers are advertising the fact that the aristocracy of the pigsty has been abolished; that the pork shoulder has descended to the proletarian level of the squab; that ham no longer is classified in a price group with humming birds tongue; and that bacon is no more an academic subject; in brief, that the Supreme Court has decreed pork to be an article for human consumption, there are still a few voices uplifted in protest against the principle, the strictly American principle, that the Supreme Court is the sole judge of the meaning of the American constitution.

Criticism erected on the theory that the election returns is erected on the theory that individuals should decide what is good for the people. The suggestion that the courts should bend the laws to conform to the desires of a political party, even a ruling party, is absurd and unsound. Constitutional changes should not be made by the courts or by politicians, but by the people themselves.

The Supreme Court should not be a reader of election returns, even of Digest polls. It should be the anchor of constitutionalism under which this nation has advanced to the first place among nations, the most liberal because the most free; a nation in which the general level of well being is higher than it has ever been in any nation of history; which, under its constitution, has ridden out innumerable political storms without resort to dictatorship.

Even on the basis that the Supreme Court should follow the turns of political theory instead of established law, that it should consult Tugwell instead of the Constitution, the recent AAA decision could be justified as an act in the public interest. The reduction in the price of pork is a very practical benefit to most of us.

But the Supreme Court has nothing to do with political theory. Its job is to interpret the law according to the Constitution. If the levity or stupidity of politicians devises laws which cannot meet that test, no criticism attaches to the Supreme Court.

The people can change their Constitution at will. They have shown capacity for making changes as the need arose. Is the wisdom of politicians so far above the people that the power of making changes should be taken out of the hands of the people?

Remarkable Remarks

It is only the money-changer and his industrial servants who are crying out against effective, beneficent regulation of business by a central and authoritative government.—Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit.

You will find the best people in church.—Charles P. Taft, son of the former President.

In "good music" I include all the greatest music of the western world from the 16th century until today.—Leopold Stokowski, famed orchestra leader.

There wouldn't be anybody in the world who would have anything but the man over 60. Well, I guess I'd be O. K. at that.—Alfred E. Smith, commenting on Townsend plan.

A good American husband is the best thing on earth. These husbands don't deserve any credit for it. It's the way their womenfolk bring them up.—Mary McCormick, prima donna.

Even the Leaders Falter on Constitution Knowledge

MISINFORMATION on the federal constitution is colossal. Pundit Mark Sullivan, high pontiff of Washington columnists, suggests a shrewd way to circumvent the supreme court. Says he, "Mr. Roosevelt could have congress pass an act requiring that all justices retire at the age of 70 years." Such a measure would at once make five vacancies in the court and the President could then appoint a majority bloc of his own selection.

Very clever. The only drawback is the constitution itself which says that the judges "shall hold their offices during good behavior." The leftist of the left New Dealers would scarcely insist that "good behavior" necessarily terminates when a judge arrives at three score years and 10.

William Howard Taft had a vast reputation as an authority on constitutional law. Yet when he formed his cabinet in 1909 he chose Phander Knox as secretary of state. Now this he could not do because Knox was a senator when the salaries of cabinet officers had been increased. The constitution says, "No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time."

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

I have met haggis and he is not mine and I am not his. Divided the honors with him fifty at the Robert Burns banquet, then moved from Scotland to the American side of my plate and started on roast beef. Somehow or other I felt more at home in spite of the assertion made by Alex Walker that it required 16 hours of the most careful oversight to get haggis ready for a palatable interpretation. To the uninitiated haggis is approached with the caution of a pioneer scout, but to the sophisticated haggis is as welcome as a three-inch rain following a California drought.

Haggis is a pudding, surrounded by mystery, until its countenance is revealed by the man who slashes it open with his clean knife, and its steaming richness is a temptation comparable to the apple in the Garden of Eden. Only those brought up under its seductive influence can appreciate this delicacy.

May I extend my humble apology to Walt Young and Jimmy Watkins for not bursting into rhetorical eloquence over this epicurean accomplishment, but I offer as an extenuating circumstance the information that it was my first introduction, and from some place there came to me a warning to "prove all things," so my timidity suggested a cautious invasion, and for a new acquaintance I believe I made some progress with haggis. However, if I knew how, I believe I would rather prepare it than eat it, but you know the first 100 years is the hardest, and in time haggis and I may become good friends.

The Bobby Burns banquet and concert was as effervescent as a Wil Rogers after-dinner speech. It had bagpipes and Highland flings, oratory and Scotch vocalization, and twice during the performance my eyes involuntarily turned to my program to see if the proverbial Scotch high-ball had either boldly or surreptitiously found a place in the sun.

Jim Tuffree gave a toast to the lassies, and said something about Eve being the first lassie to be given a toast, and all the time I thought it was an apple. Never knew before that Jim was a disciple of Patou, but he ventured some opinions about the modiste who prepared Eve's garments, and the brevity thereof. Course styles have changed since then, but Jim should not become discouraged. There is ample evidence that history is going to repeat itself.

About the only rebuttal evidence introduced during the evening performance was by the lassies and lassies who offered indisputable evidence that all music does not "go round and round." They played bagpipes, and the music goes straight out. No detour, no circumference stuff. You get it right over the shoulder, and not around the abdominal sector.

But back to the bagpipe. You know if I had to blow up one of those musical octopuses I'd take it over to a tire shop and get free air for it. Believe it would work easier, and I know it would be in harmony with the prevailing impression about Scotch characteristics. But who am I to complain when I was the recipient of free transportation?

John Brand's toast to the immortal author of "Holy Willie's Prayer," "Tam O' Shanter," "The Jolly Beggar," and many others, revealed that he was more than a poet; that he was the romantic of Scotland, and with beautiful eloquence he warmed the hearts of his fellow Scotchmen toward that character now so deeply entrenched in the hearts of his countrymen the world over. An interesting allusion to the Brand address was that he and our own Bob Brown were shipmates 27 years ago en route to America.

Men come and go, the place which knew us once knows us no more forever, but nations do offer their exceptional cases, and when they appear it reveals that at some time these characters so impressed themselves and their work upon their generation and following generations, that tribute continues to be paid to their memory.

For clean, wholesome fellowship, the participants of the Burns anniversary dinner and concert had their veneration strengthened for Robert Burns, and the hostesses, who were given, ballads sang, and feet irresistibly tapped to the music of the Highland fling, and popular numbers which Agnes Wallace found hidden in the leather bag. I'll probably never see the heather, the Highlands, the Uplands, the Lowlands or the Ben Macduh, but I extracted some of the nectar with the Scotch flavor by association, thanks to my good Scotch friends.
